

Suggested Resources for Grant Research and Artist Support Programming

The New York Foundation for the Arts

nyfa.org

The New York Foundation for the Arts online resource, NYFA Source lists over 12,000 awards, services, and publications for individual artists and art professionals nationally. It is a searchable database of information.

The Foundation Center

foundationcenter.org

The Foundation Center maintains the most comprehensive database on US and global grantmakers and their grants.

The National Assembly of State Arts Agencies

nasaa-arts.org

It may be helpful to research the artist service organizations, arts councils, agencies, and/or commissions in your region that possibly offer programming including funding and/or professional development opportunities. This website can assist in locating organizations in your area.

Creative Capital

creative-capital.org/pdp/online

In addition to project funding, Creative Capital offers expansive professional development programming, including online workshops that artists from all over the country can access.

Alliance of Artists Communities

artistcommunities.org

The Alliance of Artists Communities is an organization that supports artist residencies and their website can provide helpful information for artists researching residency programs nationally.

Getting Your Sh*t Together

gyst-ink.com

GYST-Ink is an artist-run company providing resources, technology, and solutions created by artists for artists.